

disclosure must include the information that a criminal history record check was made, the specific contents of the record, and the effect the record had upon the decision.